Mrs. Barak,

In relation to HMA Matthew Gould's email below, I am pleased to inform you we have confirmed new dates for the rescheduled MEPP conference. Would Mr. Barak be available to be the keynote speaker either on the evening of Monday, 31 March or Wednesday, 2 April?

I am hoping that one of these two evenings could work with Mr. Barak's schedule. I will adjust our programme according to his availability and preference for either Jerusalem or Tel Aviv.

Thank you,
Karen

Ehud,

I was very pleased to hear that you had agreed to join us as the keynote speaker for the UK's Peace Process conference, scheduled for next week. So it is with genuine regret that I have to write to explain that we have had to postpone the conference. I cannot explain to you the reason why just yet, but it will become obvious!

We expect to confirm new dates over the next few days. My Policy Advisor Karen Bernstein will be in touch shortly to check on your availability to speak at the rescheduled conference.

I hope your schedule will allow you join us. The group of senior policy-makers who will be at the conference would really benefit from hearing your views and experiences.

Very best wishes,

Matthew
